

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT...

Pensions and Automatic Enrolment

As your recruitment provider, Huntress is dedicated to updating you with legislations as and when they are introduced. A few years ago there were changes to UK pension schemes, with the introduction of automatic enrolment, so we thought we'd bring you up to speed on what's happening.

If your employer doesn't make a contribution to your pension now, they will have to by law when they 'automatically enroll' every worker.

This is called 'automatic enrolment'. The scheme was introduced to all eligible workers between 2012 and 2018.

All Huntress PAYE temporary workers may be eligible to receive pension contributions from us with tax relief as an added extra if they fit these requirements:

- are aged between 22 and State Pension age
- earn more than £10,000 a year (or more than £181.53 a week)
- work in the UK

If you're already in a workplace pension scheme, you may not see any changes. Your workplace pension scheme will usually carry on as normal.

If you are self-employed or the sole director of your own company, you won't be automatically enrolled into a workplace pension.

You can check if this applies to you and if you have been enrolled into your employer's scheme on the government services website at:
